Risk Spectrum of the Fund

Explanation of Risk

- market risk

standard deviation : SD

Market Risk means the risk that the values of securities which the Fund has invested may increase or decrease due to outside factors such as economic/ investment situations, political factors both internally and internationally which could be considered from the Standard Deviation (SD) of the Fund. If the Fund has a high SD, it is an indicator that the Fund has high a fluctuation from the changes in the prices of securities.

High sector concentration risk

Remark : The concentration occurs among Information and Communication Technology

High country concentration risk

Remark : Remark : The concentration occurs among UNITED STATES

- exchange rate risk

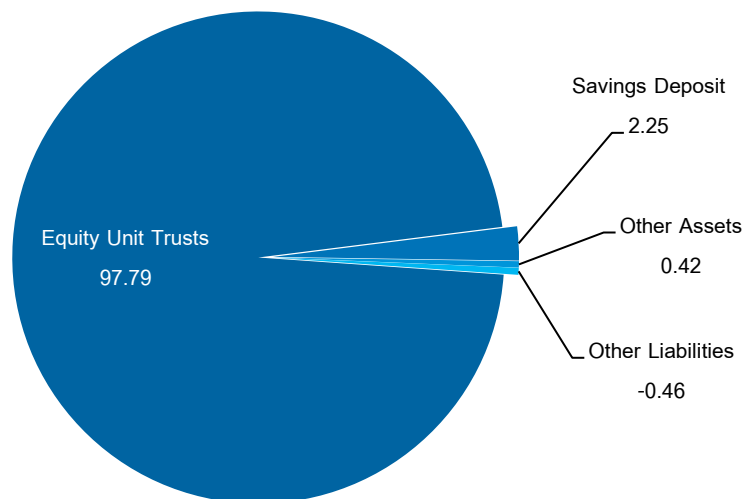

Currency Risk is the possibility that changes in exchange rate will affect the value of investment units. For example, if a mutual fund invests in securities denominated in US Dollar during Thai Baht depreciation and the units are subsequently sold when Thai Baht appreciates, the mutual fund will receive lower return in Thai Baht. On the other hand, if the same fund invests in securities denominated in US Dollar during Thai Baht appreciation and the units are subsequently sold when Thai Baht depreciates, the mutual fund will receive higher return in Thai Baht. Therefore, currency hedging techniques as follows are key tools to manage such risk.

- Hedging at discretion of the fund manager: Investors may be exposed to currency risk because it is the discretion of the fund manager whether to use a currency hedging technique.
